Our Vision

For the European Quality Center to effectively implement this philosophy in the training process, it relies on university professors, experts, academics, and pioneering practitioners and professionals across various disciplines. The Center has paved the way and created opportunities for numerous experts who now hold prestigious positions in the Arab world, enabling them to contribute effectively and allowing the management community to benefit from their expertise. The Center's training approach has been distinguished by the following:

The Center distributed printed training materials to all participants, along with specialized books and references selected by leading university professors in the course's discipline.

The Center assigns training program design and oversight to qualified academics and professionals, including university professors and field experts. Implementation is handled by top subject-matter professors, specialists, and senior practitioners.

The academic supervisor assesses trainees' feedback and addresses their needs within the established curriculum, working closely with the implementing experts.

The Center encourages networking among program participants to build strong connections and promote knowledge sharing

Trainees conduct field research on practical challenges they face, then discuss findings with the group to gain multiple insights.

The center employs the latest scientific methodologies, aiming to maximize practical application of the training
